ITALIAN DEATH RECORDS A-B-NEW ORLEANS-1839-1999 Shirley B Nichols

Italian death records at New Orleans, La. USA

INTRODUCTION

Most lists are from microfilm at state library and archives. Microfilm can be rented Southern Italy, & Sicily.
BUT MANY FROM ALL NATIONS

There are many lists naming hundreds of workers shipping to this port and then on to another state by way of boat or overland.

Welcome to this database of great information on your Italian ancestors who entered the Port of New Orleans, and died here in Louisiana, United States of America.

Years are 1839-1999, All lists includes given and surnames.

This list gives death records. Giving as many details as available. Information such as brides, grooms, parents , siblings, native land, residence, ministers, witnesses, sources, some inscriptions, and some obits.

All the material on these lists were taken from microfilm from Louisiana State Library, or from the National Archives for a price.

Genealogists are aware of the terrible misspelling of the Italian names, and also German. French, even Emglisch. Some changed their names at the port of entry on arrival. I have done my best to read these badly damaged reels and to copy them exactly as they were written, not as I thought they should have been spelled. My effort has been to bring these lists to you as they are, as though you could see them yourself. In some cases, some microfilm was too badly damaged and hundreds of names are missing, unreadable, or destroyed. Some lists have large numbers of missing passengers. Some were recorded wrong. I only copied what I could decipher. In some cases data is missing.

I do not claim this information is correct, exact, or that I made no mistakes. That too is possible. I do have hard copies of these lists. This was my best efforts to get you to the people you are looking for and then move on to the micro film of the original passenger lists if needed.

There is a large amount of information available on each passenger around 1900 and later. I was unable to copy all information as it would have taken many years.

I strongly advise you to use this info to find your ancestors and then look at the original lists for important particulars about that person or family.

In order to find your surname quickly: Click on edit on the task bar in your text program and go to the 'Find' feature . Next type the surname in the drop down window.

Click on, 'go to'. If your surnames are there they will be highlighted in turn. In some cases, the first four letters of your surnames will find you many names that may have been over looked by one spelling. Click again to find any other surnames. I have even tried a search for first names. Try the dates. That too will work wonders.

Or, you can scan the whole list. Be aware that spelling will most often be different then yours. Be flexible .

Try many spellings.

Good hunting.
